

The municipal government of 1796 was modeled after the Federal Constitution with a two-branch legislature (City Council) and an independent executive (Mayor). Reflecting the conservative philosophy behind the charter, office holding and voting were restricted to men of means. The City Council's two branches provided a voice to the general populace through a popularly elected lower chamber with the composition of an upper chamber being the social and political elite. Members of the lower chamber, or first branch, of the City Council had to possess $1,000 of assessed property and were popularly elected on an annual basis, two from each ward. Ballots were cast from voice vote by residents owning property worth at least thirty pounds currency. Every other year, voters selected one elector from each ward and the electors chose the eight members of the upper chamber, or second branch, of the Council. For consideration to serve in the second branch, individuals had to own $2,000 in property. The Mayor, with the same minimum qualifications as members of the second branch, was also selected by the electors at the same time.

The 1796 charter granted the Mayor and City Council specific power to regulate markets, streets, lots, bridges, police, fire companies, sewers, public health, and the harbor. The municipal government also levied taxes and enacted all laws necessary to govern the city within the authority conferred by the charter. While this system gave Baltimore more local authority than it had ever possessed, the State continued its traditional dominance in many areas. The State was reluctant to part with its traditional power, even into the twentieth century. It was not until 1915, for example, that Baltimore gained the right to amend its charter without first seeking approval from the state.

According to the charter the Mayor assumed the position of prime importance in the municipal government. Mayoral authority covered supervision of elections, enforcement of ordinances, and the power to veto. The Mayor also appointed all city officers from a list supplied by the City Council; supervised the operation of the police force, harbor dredging, and street lighting; directed a variety of attempts for introduction of fresh water into the city; and administered the municipal budget. Equipped with a broad range of responsibility and prerogative, the Mayor's Office was firmly established as the most significant element of Baltimore government by 1800.

Many aspects of the Baltimore executive changed during the antebellum period. For the first two decades under the charter, the Mayor selected one of two candidates supplied by the Council for each official position to be filled. Until this time the second branch had sole authority to nominate one of the two candidates for appointed positions (the Mayor nominated the other). This privilege changed in 1808 when both nominees were chosen by the two branches in joint council convention. In 1817 the Mayor gained authority to freely nominate any individual he wished with the Council's advice and consent. The Maryland General Assembly revised the city electoral system and provided for direct election of the Mayor in 1833. The burgeoning municipal debt led to the appointment of the Mayor and representatives of the Council to form a Board of Commissioners of Finance in 1818. The Mayor was president of the Board of Commissioners of public schools when it formed in 1829 and three decades later the Mayor became chairman of the new water board. Through his appointments, the executive even influenced those official bodies on which he did not serve.

The City Council also underwent modification in its early years. In 1808 several major changes occurred. The use of electors to select the second branch was discontinued in favor of direct popular elections and the property requirements for council members were sharply curtailed. Increased population in 1845 caused the redistricting of Baltimore's fourteen wards into twenty. At the same time, to maintain a manageable sized chamber, representation in the first branch was reduced from two members to one member per ward. Concurrent reorganization of the second branch provided for the election of the delegates from every two contiguous wards.

By the mid-nineteenth century, the Mayor found his authority diminished. The state stripped the executive of jurisdiction over the local police and created the Board of Police Commissioners to superintend the force. This action was justified by the inability - or unwillingness - of the Baltimore police to put down the violent election riots of the 1850's. Pointing to the city's laxity concerning fair voting procedures, the assembly also transferred responsibility of election supervision from the Mayor to the Police Commissioners in 1860.

Despite such curtailment of authority, the influence of the Mayor continued to expand during the second half of the nineteenth century. Mayoral initiative guided the growth of the city bureaucracy and most of the new jobs created were tied into Mayoral patronage. Despite this single source of power, the city government developed haphazardly and by the late 1890's over forty municipal agencies existed, all of which functioned independently of one another.

A remedy was sought in 1898 when Mayor William T. Malster appointed a commission to frame a new City Charter. Quickly approved, the charter consolidated the profusion of city agencies into nine departments. The most significant change was the creation of a Board of Estimates charged with determining the municipal budget. As the Mayor and two of his appointees formed a majority of the five-member board, the executive gained centralized control of budgetary matters.

The 1898 municipal charter drastically reduced the power of the City Council. Previously the Joint Ways and Means Committee of the City Council annually established the municipal tax rate and the appropriation schedule for municipal departments. With the establishment of a Board of Estimates in 1898 the Council could only reduce appropriations in the budget as prepared by the board. Through the Mayor's domination of the board, his power increased while that of the Council ebbed. The desire for greater Council efficiency led in 1922 to the restructuring from a bicameral to a unicameral body. Three delegates elected from each of the six newly created councilmanic districts served four year terms. This system remains in effect today.

During the twenty years following the 1898 charter, the Mayor reached a zenith in his power. The introduction of a Civil Service System for city employees in 1919 lessened the Mayor's power through the demise of widespread political patronage. The Mayor's administrative domain continued to broaden, however, with the constant growth of the city's political structure. Mayoral commissions and committees multiplied in the 1950's, and this trend continues into the 1990's. Traditionally the focal point of the city government, the Mayor continues to direct most aspects of municipal activities.

Series 1. Calhoun Correspondence to the City Council
 1797-1802
 2 lin. in.
 Arranged chronologically

Formal communications, messages, and memos sent by Mayor James Calhoun to the first and second branches of the City Council. Subjects include health concerns, erection of a hospital, Mayor's approval or disapproval of ordinances, suggestions for council legislation, watching and lighting of the city, dredging of the harbor, prevention of fire, city revenues and expenditures, introduction of additional supplies of drinking water into the city, and erection of a gunpowder magazine. The February 9, 1801 and February 8, 1802 messages were printed in the Mayor's Messages 1800-1830 (available at the Archives Reference Library).

 alphabetically by assigned subject.
 Each document is sequentially numbered and indexed within yearly aggregates.
 See HRS indexes

All varieties of correspondence. The large majority of items are addressed to individual Mayors, with regularly appearing outgoing letters. Subjects cover most aspects of city government including taxation, licensing, ordinances and resolutions, public health, schools, property ownership, litigation, railroads, claims against the city, proposals, charitable enterprises, opening and closing streets, paving streets, citizen complaints, relationship with federal and state government, port concerns, general administration, requests for information and publications from other municipalities, and applications for and appointments to municipal positions.

See descriptions of similar material in Series 1, 3, and 4.

Series 3. Miscellaneous Incoming Mayoral Correspondence
 1885-1900
 5.60 cu. ft. (13 boxes)
 Arranged chronologically

Letters, petitions, telegrams, reports, and memos addressed to individual Mayors. These records were left out of the HRS survey, because they were either discovered at a later date or were maintained separately. There is, however, no readily discernable difference in form or content between this material and that of similar date in the HRS grouping. Included are items from city agency chiefs and subordinates, congressmen, mayors from other municipalities, state government officials, attorneys, businessmen, concerned citizens, and others. Among the topics discussed are applications for and appointment to municipal offices, complaints, requests for information, charitable enterprises, letters of sympathy, and numerous other matters relating to the operation of municipal government.

See description in Series 2.

Series 4. Miscellaneous Outgoing Mayoral Correspondence
1885-1900
.25 cu. ft.
Arranged chronologically

Contains mostly letterpress copies, although some originals are included. Topics cover political appointments, approval or disapproval of ordinances and resolutions, replies to an assortment of citizen's complaints, communications to city agencies, and requests for information from other municipalities. Much of the material was created by subordinates representing the Mayor.

Series 26. D'Alesandro III Administrative Files
1967-1971
53.5 cu. ft. (120 boxes)
Arranged by subject in three sub-series

Inter-departmental memos and correspondence constitute the majority of the records. Reports, speeches, minutes, legislation, and incoming and outgoing letters are the bulk of the remaining material. The administrative files of Mayor Thomas J. D'Alesandro III reflect, in their arrangement and content, two major themes: decentralization of the municipal government and social programs orientated towards poorer communities. Five administrative assistants were assigned to the Mayor's Office to act as liasons with city agencies and it is the records of these mayoral assistants that represent the majority of the records of the D'Alesandro III administration. The administrative assistants were Peter N. Marudas, Kalman R. Hettleman, John W. Eddinger, and Joseph L. Smith.

Sub-series I contains the records of Peter N. Marudas, who acted as the primary liason with the City Council, Board of Estimates, and Criminal Justice Agencies. Subjects include ordinances, Minimum Wage Commission, City Council, Department of Public Works, Department of Recreation and Parks, Civic Center, Board of Estimates, City Solicitor, Department of Finance, and Baltimore Museum of Art.

The records of Joseph L. Smith and John W. Eddinger constitute sub-series II. Subjects include Neighborhood Mayor's Stations, Community Action Agency, Community Relations Commission, aging, air pollution, Health Department, city hospitals, speeches, and Department of Economic Development.

Sub-series III contains the files of Kalman R. Hettleman. Subjects include the state legislature, housing, transportation, metropolitan affairs and civil rights, budget, civil disorders, Department of Education, Department of Housing and Community Development, interstate roads, Model Cities, multi-purpose centers, Baltimore Urban Coalition, and Mayor's Advisory Committee on Workable Programs for Community Improvement.

There is a file folder listing available.

Series 27. Printed Mayoral Material 1801-1971
 Arranged by classification system of individual repository

This series consists of printed material, some of which is also duplicated in the Baltimore City Department of Legislative Reference Library, Maryland Historical Society, and the Maryland Department of the Enoch Pratt Free Library. The two major types of printed records created by the Mayor's Office are the annual messages and published statements issued by the mayor.

The "Mayor's Message" (also called the "Mayor's Communication," "Mayor's Annual Report," or individually titled), delivered annually to the City Council, is an account of the general state of the city. This document provides a summary of the financial status of the city, the Mayor's opinions on ordinances, and statements of the development of various city departments. No manuscript or printed copy survives of the annual message for 1797, the first year of the city's existence. A progress report written by Mayor James Calhoun to the City Council dated June 19, 1797 which adheres to the format of subsequent messages, is in the holdings of the Baltimore City Archives, RG.9, Series 1, Box 1. The earliest extant message is dated February 12, 1798. This and the following two messages of February 11, 1799 and February 10, 1800 were printed in daily newspapers, but were not included in any published compilation of messages. Manuscript copies of the 1798 and 1799 messages are part of BCA RG.9, Series 1, Box 1; the 1800 message is part of BCA RG.16, Series 1. The first published compilation of "Mayor's Messages" was printed in 1831 containing the messages from 1801 through 1831. Other compilations exist for 1832-1860, 1861-1879, 1880-1890, 1915-1937, 1943-1947, 1947-1951, and 1963-1967. "Mayor's Messages" for these, and intervening years, were published in Baltimore Annual Reports from 1856 to 1919. The messages were also included in the Journal of Proceedings of the Baltimore City Council from 1801 to 1979. "Mayor's Messages" have been prepared sporadically in the twentieth century.

The earliest of the Mayor's reports have been reprinted in William G. LeFurgy, "Prudent Laws and Wise Regulations: Three early Baltimore Mayor's Messages, 1797-1799, "Maryland Historical Magazine, 78, No. 4 (Winter, 1983), 278-86.

Sources for other Mayoral publications include the Baltimore Municipal Journal, 1913-1931, BCA RG.26, Series 1; Journals of the Maryland State Senate and House of Delegates; local newspapers; and individually published speeches and policy statements.

Series 37. General Public Improvement Conference
Records 1904-1905
.45 cu. ft. (1 box)
Arranged by committee

Mayor E. Clay Timanus was instrumental in the establishment and operation of this organization. Soon after the founding of the conference in December of 1904, Timanus appointed several commissions to investigate various types of municipal improvements, including: a new central police station, fire-fighting equipment, private and public streets, schools, sewers and annex loans, water supplies, and a proposed union railroad station. In addition, there were also separate executive and finance committees and a committee for "other improvements" such as street extensions and expansion of the parks system.

This series consists mostly of minutes generated by these committees. Some correspondence and several committee reports are also available. Much of the material concerns specific improvement proposals, many of which were implemented by the municipality.

Series 38. Personnel Appointments (Non-Civil Service)
1952-1986
8 reels of microfilm
(BCA 1588, 5205-09, 5320-21)
Arranged alphabetically by surname

Personnel-related records concerning staff of the Mayor's Office who received non-Civil Service appointments. Mayoral administrations represented are: Thomas J. D'Alesandro, Jr., J. Harold Grady, Philip H. Goodman, Theodore R. McKeldin, Thomas J. D'Alesandro, III, William Donald Schaefer, and Clarence "Du" Burns.

Various types of documentation appear including correspondence, certifications of service, cut-off tickets, change notices, entry tickets, withholding exemption certificates, newspaper clippings, lists of Mayor's Office personnel, payroll rosters, budget requests, appropriation details.

A listing of the personnel whose records are included is available.

These records are available on microfilm only and their usage is restricted. They may not be examined unless the person is deceased or seventy-five (75) years have elapsed since their date of employment.

Series 39. Mayor's Newspaper Clippings 1971-1986
28.80 cu. ft. (64 boxes)

Series 40. Mayor George Stiles Correspondence 1817
5 items
Arranged chronologically

All items in this series relate to the June 2, 1817 visit to Baltimore by President James Monroe as part of his national tour. Three letters make up this series: one from Mayor Stiles to the City Council detailing plans for the visit; another from Stiles officially welcoming Monroe; and another to Stiles and the City Council from Monroe thanking them for their welcome and giving some reasons why he is touring the nation.

MEMORANDUM

Civil Defense

TO: Joe
M

DATE: August 23, 1968

FROM: Marguerite

SUBJECT: Civil Defense Meeting, August 22, 1968

Presiding: Mr. Robert Osborne, Director

Topic for Discussion: Role of Relief Agencies
Red Cross
Steps in during acts of God
Civil Defense
Pressed into action in man-made disasters

Purpose of Meeting: To coordinate plans of city agencies and have a representative clearing house to bundle the needs and relief of the people. The County has developed a program. Red Cross is establishing the coordinating agency.

Reverend Moulder is involved in a plan being developed by three christian demominations. Clergymen are setting up a plan to relieve during a disaster. Discussion on unique problems of the civil distrubances in April, 1968, such as:

1. Responsibility of prisoners (Aliases)
2. Donable Foods (contributions of foods - private)
3. Transportation
4. Registration for shelter
5. Communication
6. Passes for volunteers and trained workers of existing agencies.
7. Volunteers to help out on processing and transportation
8. Establishment of a "Rumor Control Center"

It was emphasized that the city cooperated splendidly (financially) during the April disasters; however, since there are no clear guidelines on procedures for action during such a crisis, Mr. Bangs of the Red Cross is willing to coordinate, however, would appreciate a letter authorizing coordination of social services for the city. This would be the clearing house.

Mention was also made of a report on registrations during civil disorders. City Solicitor's excellent report is not incorporated into C.D.'s Plan because there is still no clear cut declaration of the responsibility of prisoners. It is the City Solicitor or Attorney General's responsibility for prisoners?

The meeting adjourned at 3:30 p.m. In the interim, agencies are to prepare their plans for action in emergencies for the next meeting which will be held Thursday, September 5th at 3:00 p.m., The Red Cross Headquarters, 23rd and St. Paul Streets. (Parking is good)

Civil Disorders (1)

August 7, 1968

The Reverend Wayne M. Moulder
The Metropolitan Strategy and Christian
Social Relations Office
105 West Monument Street
Baltimore, Maryland 21201

Dear Reverend Moulder:

Thank you for your recent letter outlining the role the clergy and churches might play in future civil disorders. Naturally, we hope that future disorders will not occur. However, advance preparation is most appropriate if we are to prevent undue hardship and suffering on the part of innocent residents during civil disorders.

Mr. Dave Glenn and his staff at the Community Relations Commission is developing a Rumor Control Center. I am forwarding a copy of your letter to Mr. Glenn with the request that he contact you within the near future so that a cooperative effort can be developed.

I wish your Program every success.

Sincerely,

Mayor

The Honorable Thomas J. D'Alesandro, III
Mayor of Baltimore
City Hall
Baltimore, Md.

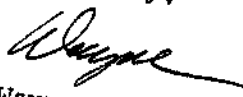

Dear Mayor D'Alesandro:

Enclosed is a letter recently sent to clergy of the Episcopal, United Church of Christ and Presbyterian Churches. It outlines the plans of this office for the role to be played by these clergy and churches in the event of another civil disorder in Baltimore.

Since your office would also be working in such an emergency, we thought it would be well to advise you of our plans.

We are eager to co-operate and to be co-ordinated with any and all other agencies. We are also open to any suggestions you may have as to any additional responsible role in which our churches and clergy might be qualified and effective.

Sincerely,

Wayne M. Moulder

TO: Clergy of the Chesapeake Association, the Diocese of Maryland and the Presbytery of Baltimore
FROM: Wayne M. Moulder
RE: Plans for the Response of the Clergy and Churches to Possible Civil Disorders.

Gentlemen:

Baltimore, in April, suffered from Civil Disorder. The churches of Baltimore did a magnificent job of responding to the crisis needs. We all hope that this will never happen here again. But, as long as the basic causes of discontent are not abolished from our city and the nation, the possibility of further disturbances continues to haunt us. In that event, we would be able to do a much better, more complete job and contribute more if we have a plan prepared beforehand that uses our qualifications and skills and can be put into effect easily and quickly. Therefore, the Board of Metropolitan Strategy and Christian Social Relations and the Urban Crisis Task Forces have asked me to develop such a plan and communicate it to the clergy of our three denominations. The following plan is the result of many contacts and much consultation with a great many people and agencies. It has been approved for implementation by the Board and is submitted to you for your participation.

1. RUMOR CHECK CENTER

Rumors do a great deal to trigger reactions as well as to heighten tensions during times of civil disorder. Before a disorder they can easily become self-fulfilling prophecies that produce the very thing they lie about. They can become especially dangerous where those threatened, more and more of whom have armed themselves, decide to take immediate action themselves. A center, where the authenticity of rumors can be checked with a respectable, responsible agency with wide contacts with both the police and the news media has proved, in several other cities, to be an invaluable and effective means of alleviating fears and tensions and heading off possible disaster before it can get started.

Therefore, I have recommended the establishment of such a Rumor Check Center under the joint sponsorship of the Urban League and the Maryland Council of Churches. I am working currently with Mrs. Mildred Atkinson and Dr. Furman Templeton to work out the details and mechanics, set up the necessary contacts with police and media, etc. When we have completed our plans, we hope to have widely circulated publicity, so that you and your people should be hearing about it.

In the meantime, if you or any of your people are particularly disturbed by any of the current rumors, you can call our office and we will do our best to check it out with contacts available to us and get back to you with complete, authentic information.

2. COMMUNICATIONS

One of our major problems in April was the lack of an efficient, single Communications Center and Network for our churches, so that information could be communicated and clergy mobilized, if necessary, smoothly and rapidly.

We have established that our office will serve as a Communications Center. We have four lines here: 727-3738, 727-3739, 727-3740 and 727-3741, all of which can be diverted to ring at our office 24 hours a day. We also have facilities adequate for use of staff who might have to stay overnight. Our Communications Center will, of course, be in contact both with our clergy and churches and with other agencies. We feel that our present staff and perhaps a few volunteers will be sufficient to man the Center.

Enclosed, you will find a list of clergy and churches in the geographical zone of your church. This list serves two purposes with respect to civil disturbances. It may also be useful for other programs as well, so please hang on to it. Its first use in the event of a civil disturbance is as a Communications Network. If we need to communicate or to mobilize our forces, our staff at the Communications Center will call the nine Zone Captains (designated by ). They, in turn, will contact no more than three Team Captains (designated by *) who will, in turn, contact no more than six other clergymen. Those who have assistants on their staff will be responsible then to contact them. In this way, necessary communication with the 135 clergymen in 119 of our churches in the metropolitan area can be effected quickly with a minimum of effort. There are 19 Teams in 9 Zones. Please keep this listing for this and other possible uses. Any of you who may be designated as a Zone or Team Captain who is unable or unwilling to serve in this capacity, please call us and we will try to arrange a replacement. If the Zone or Team Captain is not available when needed, we will select another name at the moment from the same list.

3. JAILS, HOSPITALS AND CLERGY

The second use of the enclosed clergy list involves a way in which clergy can be most helpful. The plan is for clergy to be present at emergency treatment centers and places where prisoners are booked. The purpose is two-fold: (1) To minimize, simply by their presence, both actual incidents and false charges of mistreatment and (2) to take names, addresses and 'phone numbers and to ensure that families are notified of the whereabouts of patients and prisoners. In April, several people were simply "lost" for two or three days.

Each clergy team will be assigned a jail or hospital or precinct station or detention center, in their own geographical zone if at all possible. If, and when, a disorder occurs, the Team Captains will notify Team Members and work out a schedule for this kind of coverage around the clock. Obviously, the more who will participate, the shorter the amount of time each one has to serve. Just as soon as the necessary approval and clearances are obtained from hospitals and police, Team Captains will be notified of the assignments. We are now in the process of getting this authorization and clearance for clergy to move back and forth from assigned places to their homes.

There will probably be other ways in which you can and will be asked to serve as the need arises, but our primary emphasis will be placed upon implementation of this program for clergy service.

4. VOLUNTEERS

We, or other agencies, are very likely to need to request volunteers to drive, do clerical work, assist at the Communications Center, the Rumor Center, the Food Collection Centers, to monitor media or serve as recorders or any of a number of other possibilities, the extent of which is impossible to foresee.

It would be very helpful if you could now recruit a few people who would be willing to be available "on call" in case we or some other agency need them. Please do this quietly, discreetly, individually and privately so as not to frighten or excite people unnecessarily. And, please only recruit people who are strong, secure, stable, calm types.

5. FOOD

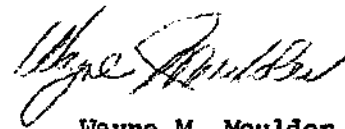

In April, one of the major contributions of the churches was in collecting and distributing food and other necessities for those in riot areas who needed them. Now, some other agencies are planning to do some of that. And, besides, we have established an Emergency Relief Fund, as have some other agencies and church groups, to be used to supply this more quickly, efficiently and inexpensively, if necessary. Unless the character and extent of disorders changes quite a bit, this should be sufficient to meet the need we met last time with contributions.

But just in case it should become necessary to collect food, we are doing two things. First, we are enclosing in this mailing a list of what we mean when we say "Non-Perishable Foods." Second, we are seeking permission of three of our churches to be used as Collection Stations: Zion U.C.C., 7140 Golden Ring Rd., 21221 on the East side; Redeemer Episcopal, 5603 N. Charles St., 21210, on the North; Catonsville Presbyterian, Frederick and Beechwood, 21228, on the West.

The above five points constitute our plan for the role and involvement of the churches and clergy of our three denominations in the event of any future disorders. It does not attempt to do everything and to solve all problems, but only those things that we can do well and that other agencies do not do as effectively. It is an independent plan of action, yet one that can be co-ordinated with those of all agencies that would be involved. All of these will also be notified, by copy of this letter, of our plan. In some cases, we are still waiting for approval, clearance, co-ordination or action by other agencies that will be necessary before the plan can be fully implemented. But aside from these necessary responses from others, we feel that we are as prepared as we can be for something we all hope will never happen here again.

Thank you for your interest and co-operation.

Sincerely yours,

Wayne M. Moulder

Dear Mr. Governor:

Thank you for your letter of April 19 concerning the establishment of a high level team to marshal all Federal, State and local recovery resources.

I would like to designate my Administrative Assistant,
Kalman R. Hettleman, to serve as a member of that team.

I am appreciative of your constructive and cooperative efforts to assist in the urgently needed recovery work that must be undertaken.

Dear Tommy:

In response to my request for the establishment of a high-level team to efficiently marshal all Federal, State and local resources to assure a rapid and orderly recovery from the riots in Baltimore, President Johnson has directed Governor Price Daniel, Director, Office of Emergency Planning, to work in concert with Maryland.

I would appreciate your designating a member of your staff to serve as liaison with a member of my staff and a representative of the Office of Emergency Planning.

Would you please inform my office of your designee so that we may immediately establish the necessary procedures for an orderly recovery?

Sincerely,

Ted

Honorable Spiro T. Agnew
Governor of the State of Maryland
State House
Annapolis, Maryland 21404

Dear Governor Agnew:

A government which is truly responsive to the public need must find from tragedy the reason and purpose to eliminate its cause. In the wake of the disorders which struck Baltimore City in April, my Administration has renewed its commitment to social progress so that violence need never again serve as a medium of expression for the frustration of our people. I have also renewed my commitment to the reality that complacency breeds unpreparedness. Thus, while I fervently hope that the unhappy events of April shall never recur, I cannot ignore the fact that they may happen again. I cannot, therefore, be satisfied that the executive and judicial agencies performed admirably to maximize the benefits of our system of administering justice in the last emergency - when this would be to ignore the inadequacy of the system.

Although I condemn the lawless, I recognize that our system of government properly commands the protection of their rights. The right to fast, intelligent and efficient justice may be destroyed as easily by insufficient method as by maladministration.

I also recognize that only through providing a proper framework for administering justice can we promote the common interests of all our people in an orderly society. With this in mind, I appointed the City Solicitor on April 29, 1968, to chair a commission of distinguished citizens and public officials to study the administration of justice in the crisis of the April emergency. The much complimented product of their work is the exhaustive "Report of the Baltimore Committee on the Administration of Justice Under Emergency Conditions," containing 67 specific recommendations. Shortly after its publication on May 31, 1968, I requested the City Solicitor to head a task force for implementation.

BALTIMORE August 2, 1968

On July 26, Solicitor Russell advised that the first phase of implementation had been completed. This entailed initial contact with all the agencies concerned, in order to evaluate our position and determine the best method of coordinating the effort. Much of the actual implementation has already been accomplished by the State agencies working with the Attorney General. A copy of Solicitor Russell's report is attached. His recommendation is simple and pragmatic. "The State, being in control of the administration of justice, is likewise in control of implementation. It is a reality, therefore, that the State should coordinate the effort." Judge Russell is totally committed to the work of his Commission. His office directed the staff work in the study and in planning for implementation. It is his purpose to secure the needed improvements, but he feels that compelling reasons demand the transfer of coordination responsibility to the Attorney General.

These reasons grow out of the unique structure of laws governing the maintenance of peace and order in Baltimore City. While the Mayor and City Council may enact appropriate legislation under its police power, it has no executive agency for enforcement. As a result, a plenary system of State authority prevails even in ordinary times. Once you have declared a state of emergency and deployed the National Guard, this unity of power is complete. There should not be any confusion on this score. Under the Charter and Public Local Laws of Baltimore City, the dichotomy of legislative police power vested in the City and all enforcement power is retained by the State.

Since there is no question that the State does possess this law enforcement power, it is obvious that the Attorney General is the proper official to put into effect the recommendations made by my Committee on the Administration of Justice. This does not mean that City officials will not continue their interest in the Committee's work, but the issue here is quick and harmonious action. No State agency can act in a legal field without the advice of the Attorney General, and he therefore becomes the person responsible, if he so desires, for putting into practice some of the Justice Committee's recommendations.

Therefore I request that the State government assume the burden of coordinating the implementation. All City agencies stand ready to assist wherever desired. Although I am optimistic for the future, I have learned from the past, and I thus very much desire reports of the implementation as finally accomplished. In this way, the municipal government may prepare itself to provide such support to State activities as may be necessary under the new system.

Sincerely,

vbb + Mayor to Mayor)

RE: "Report of the Baltimore Committee on the Administration of Justice
under Emergency Conditions" -
Implementation Task Force -
File No. 117197

Tommy
Dear ~~Mayor D'Alesandro~~:

On April 29, 1968, you appointed a Committee, chaired by the City Solicitor, to study the administration of justice during the civil disorders of April. Its Report, containing 67 specific recommendations, was rendered on May 31, 1968. Immediately, thereafter, you requested that we form a Task Force to Implement the Report. On June 26, we requested the services of the Attorney General of Maryland, the Chief Judges of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City and Municipal Court of Baltimore City, the Executive Director of the Legal Aid Bureau, the Director of Civil Defense, the State's Attorney for Baltimore City, the Adjutant General of Maryland, the Superintendent of the Maryland State Police and the Police Commissioner of Baltimore City on the Task Force.

All of the executive agencies involved have now responded to our request, and we have digested and analyzed their reports. They are to be complimented on their prompt and enthusiastic replies.

We now find it desirable to review the framework for implementation in light of our new information and of the ultimate goal of achieving smooth and consistent cooperation between the governmental agencies concerned. Only in this way can the interests of our citizens be best protected.

Under the City Charter and public local laws, the State, through the agency of the Police Commissioner, has retained plenary responsibility for law enforcement and the maintenance of peace and order in Baltimore City. The responsibility of the State is accentuated in time of civil disorder in view of the Governor's power to declare a state of emergency and to deploy the National Guard. It is for this reason that all but two of the members of the Task Force - the Executive Director of the Legal Aid Bureau and the Director of Civil Defense - are State officials.

Of the 67 separate activities recommended in the Report, only three categories were assigned to municipal personnel or private agencies such as the Legal Aid Bureau:

(1) The Director of Civil Defense is to assist in the activation of the Central Detention and Emergency Operations Centers.

(2) The Executive Director of Legal Aid is to complement the activities of the Courts and State's Attorney in organizing an improved system for trial and representation of arrestees.

(3) This office has temporarily retained involvement in the administration of the Emergency Operations Center and certain other coordination areas.

It is immediately apparent that all of these private and municipal functions are in the nature of support for State activities. The burden of decision making is primarily vested in the State government. This is confirmed by the reactions of the Task Force members. The military methods to be employed, the judicial systems to be utilized, the legislative changes to be made and the detention systems to be created are all basically state activities. In time of emergency, coordination of these functions through the Emergency Operations Center would proceed, of necessity, under State authority.

Under these circumstances, we have sought to develop an overview of the implementation and to again evaluate the method to be employed. Your request that we assume coordination responsibility in this area was borne of your urgent desire to improve governmental service in time of emergency. We appreciate your confidence and fully share your intention to make government in crisis as responsive to the public's needs as possible. Yet the importance of this effort transcends the question of who shall fulfill the promise of the report. Consequently, we realize that our common interest and planning must be tempered by recognition of the practical realities of our local system of government.

The goal is to improve the administration of justice in Baltimore City, and the responsibility for coordination toward that end must rest where it may be best served. We can only promote the Commission's purposes by steps toward harmonizing the inter-governmental activities which are required to solve the multifaceted, complex, and delicate problems involved. It becomes manifest that the State, being in control of the administration of justice, is likewise in control of implementation. It is a reality, therefore, that the State should coordinate the effort. Accordingly, the City Solicitor, being the legal adviser only to the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, finds it appropriate, and necessary, to defer to the Attorney General as chief legal officer of the State.

We recommend, therefore, that you communicate to Governor Agnew your request that the Commission's Report be implemented, under State coordination, and with the speed and thoroughness it deserves. This office, along with the other City agencies, stands ready to provide all possible cooperation. We earnestly hope that it will never be necessary to utilize the contemplated emergency procedures, but we think it prudent that you further request that the State make available to us a full report of the new systems and procedures as they are finally created. In this way, the municipal government may prepare itself to grant such assistance as may someday be required of it in this area.

Dear George:

Your letter of July 3 and the Report of Baltimore Committee on the Administration of Justice under Emergency Conditions have received my personal attention.

I am amazed the Committee was able to do such an able and meaningful job in such a short period of time. The 67 recommendations which you make, supported as they are by careful examination of the underlying factors in each case, certainly should lead to an improved response on the part of all levels of government if the unfortunate occurrences of April should recur.

I am fully in accord with your request that State officials cooperate in implementing as many of these recommendations as can be accomplished at the State level, and by copy of this letter to General Burch, Colonel Lally, General Gelston and Commissioner Cannon, I am advising them of my desire to render all assistance possible.

To the extent that legislative changes are to be recommended at the next session of the General Assembly, I am assigning John Sause of my Legislative Office as liaison man with your Implementation Task Force. Mr. Sause is located in the State House and his telephone number is 647-6701.

Dear Judge Russell:

I regret that I did not meet your deadline of July 10th, but we have made some progress. I have written to the Presidents of each Bar Association in the city asking for a list of defense counsel and I have already contacted most of the large law firms for the same purpose. The American Civil Liberties Union has given me a roster of volunteers. I have also written to the Deans of the three law schools in Baltimore to recruit law students as aides and I have also written to the Dean of the School of Social Work at the University of Maryland for the same purpose. The Prisoners Aid Association indicated a desire to participate in any future disturbances and I have written to their Director to discuss with him how the professional social workers on their staff can be of greater assistance.

We will order the cards suggested in Recommendation No. 10 and we are in the process of establishing our own staff plan for coordinators in all courts. In the next week, I also expect to order the necessary questionnaires and forms to be printed.

Dear Judge Russell:

This is in reply to your letter of June 26, 1968 in which you requested a preliminary written report concerning certain recommendations contained in the "Report of Baltimore Committee on the Administration of Justice under Emergency Conditions."

Your letter designates three of the recommendations as ones in which the Adjutant General might have primary responsibility in conjunction with the Maryland State Police. Comment on the three recommendations is furnished below:

Recommendation #11

I concur with this recommendation. Training in the elements of more serious crimes and the preservation of evidence would be highly desirable for National Guardsmen. There are problems, however.

National Guard training assemblies are federally-paid for the fulfillment of federally-designated missions. The accomplishment of the training outlined by this recommendation would require additional assemblies for which funds are not available. The State or other agency would have to provide funds for the pay of the Guardsmen during such instruction. For each day involving all Maryland National Guardsmen, the cost would be in excess of $100,000.

Recommendation #16

I concur with this recommendation. National Guard personnel have received instruction in the use of minimum force to accomplish the Civil Disturbance mission.

10 July 68

Recommendation #64

I concur with this recommendation. The Maryland Air National Guard has two aircraft which are presently fitted with sound equipment. Such aircraft are normally available but, on occasion, are out of the State in pursuance of the federal mission.

Your letter also designated seven (7) other recommendations in which both the Maryland State Police and the Adjutant General would be interested. The following comments are offered:

Recommendation #5

The use of National Guardsmen to provide security for the Booking Command Posts is not desirable unless absolutely necessary. Such Command Posts are Police installations. Security should be provided by the Police agency.

Recommendation #6

I concur with this recommendation.

Recommendation #7

Reference is made to the comment under Recommendation #11 above. Such training would be desirable for National Guardsmen, but there are practical difficulties in the way.

Recommendation #8

I concur with this recommendation.

Recommendation #12

I concur with this recommendation, but foresee some problems in the identification of some precocious persons as juveniles.

Recommendations #15 & #33.

I concur with these recommendations.

Either I, myself, or members of my Staff will be available for any further consultation which you may desire.

Sincerely yours,

GEORGE M. GELSTON,

Dear Judge Russell:

In response to your letter of June 26, 1968, I am submitting the preliminary report as you requested concerning your Committee's recommendations as to the administration of justice under emergency conditions.

I shall deal first with recommendations #11, #16, and #64, as these are of prime concern to the Maryland State Police and the National Guard.

Recommendation #11

I concur in this recommendation. If General Gelston concurs, training could be provided to the Guardsmen on the elements of the crimes involved and the rules of evidence by any number of sources, such as qualified police instructors, representatives of the Attorney General, State's Attorney or Solicitor's offices. Perhaps within the National Guard itself there are qualified attorneys who could provide this training.

Recommendation #16

I concur in this recommendation. Our personnel are well trained and well disciplined and are also well aware of the amount of force to be exercised.

Recommendation #64

I concur in this recommendation. The Maryland State Police have vehicles, including a helicopter, which can quickly be fitted with sound equipment to notify the citizens of curfews, etc. We have followed this practice in a number of disorders.

My comments concerning the other recommendations in which we have a collateral interest are as follows:

Recommendation #5

I concur. We will include this procedure in our regulations and provided our tactical squads with the report forms so they will be readily available if needed.

Recommendation #6

I agree. This procedure will conserve both police and National Guard manpower.

Recommendation #7

I agree as to the necessity of some legal training for the militia, however, I am puzzled as to the extension of this to the Maryland State Police. Our personnel receive the most extensive training of any law enforcement officers in the State, both in substantive and adjective law and should be well qualified in properly presenting their cases in court.

Recommendation #8

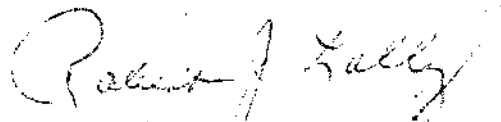

I agree that the presence of a representative of the States Attorney's staff would be very helpful.

Recommendations #12, #15, and #33

We agree with all three of these recommendations.

Captain John R. Colister, Assistant to the Chief of our Operations Bureau, is in charge of our tactical forces and will be available for consultation with your staff.

Sincerely yours,

Superintendent

Dear Judge Russell:

We have reviewed Recommendations Nos. 17, 18, 22, 30, 39 and 44 of the Report of Baltimore Committee on the Administration of Justice under Emergency Conditions which you assigned to our office for implementation.

With respect to Recommendation No. 17, we shall forward to the Governor and General Gelston a copy of that recommendation for their consideration since it appears that they would be in a position to implement that recommendation if they feel it desirable.

With respect to Recommendation No. 18, it is our view that the legislation there proposed should be referred to the Legislative Council for its consideration, and it would be more appropriate for your office as chairman of the Committee to sponsor such legislation and to give the Council the benefit of the Committee's deliberations on this question.

With respect to Recommendation No. 22, the same consideration seems to apply here; namely, that, since legislation there recommended relates to the peculiar problems of the judicial structure of Baltimore City, it would be more appropriate for your office as chairman of the Committee to propose such legislation to the Legislative Council and to give it the benefit of the Committee's deliberations on this matter.

With respect to Recommendation No. 30, we believe that the question of the assignment of Appellate, Circuit Court and People's Court judges to the Municipal Court of Baltimore City is a matter which might first be considered by the Legislative Council so that it would have the benefit of the Committee's deliberations on the question and perhaps discuss the need for a constitutional amendment if the recommendation is a desirable one. Again, it would seem more appropriate that your office make available to the Legislative Council your deliberations on this question so that it might have your guidance as to the statutory and constitutional problems involved.

Again, Recommendation No. 39 should be referred to the Legislative Council for its consideration and it would seem advisable that it have the benefit of the Committee's deliberations on this question so that it might be better able to determine whether such legislation is desirable.

Finally, with respect to Recommendation No. 44, it would appear more appropriate that that matter be referred to the Rules Committee of the Court of Appeals since it involves the question of admission to practice pro hac vice of out-of-state attorneys during emergency conditions.

Our office will certainly be available if called upon by the Legislative Council to express our views on any of these matters.

Dear Judge Russell:

This letter is in response to your request of June 25, 1968, concerning the Report of the Baltimore Committee on the Administration of Justice Under Emergency Conditions.

The thirty-three recommendations noted to be of interest to the Police Department have been reviewed and my comments on these and other matters are as follows:

1. We are in agreement that the booking processes for less serious offenders, particularly curfew violators, should be simplified and decentralized.
2. We agree that regular booking procedures should be followed where arrested persons are charged with more serious offenses.
3. The abbreviated form of the arrest report will be used by this Department. As noted in recommendation 67, these forms are being developed.
4. We will provide one copy of the abbreviated arrest report to the Central Data Bank. Since the operation of a Central Data Bank is not within the capability of the Police Department, we recommend that the Director of Finance for the City of Baltimore consider the possibility of using personnel from that Department. We will provide a copy to any lawful agency which is assigned this responsibility.
5. This recommendation is acceptable to the Police Department.
6. This recommendation is acceptable to the Police Department.

July 5, 1968

7. This recommendation is acceptable to the Police Department, but is primarily the responsibility of the Adjutant General and Federal Force Commander.

8. We take no exception to this recommendation.

9. This problem will be minimized with the adoption of the Central Detention Center for curfew violators. The need to obtain volunteers from other municipal agencies should be brought to the attention of the person whose primary responsibility is officer-in-charge of the Central Detention Center.

10. There should not be a lengthy involvement concerning the constitutional rights of those arrested for lesser offenses such as curfew, since they will not be interrogated. Such constitutional rights as are relevant in lesser offenses, can be brought to the attention of those charged when they are brought to the Central Detention Center. Naturally, normal procedures will prevail in serious cases, and such persons will be advised of their constitutional rights as at present.

11. This Department concurs that police officers will function as arresting officers on a need basis. Any necessity to have National Guardsmen testify should be discussed with the Adjutant General.

12. I recommend that juveniles should be detained in a distinctly separate location from adults, and that perhaps one floor of the Central Detention Center can be set aside for this use. We can anticipate at least 20% of all arrests being juveniles. This arrangement should be discussed with the Juvenile Court, and if they are not satisfied, we would like the Juvenile Court to suggest other procedures.

13. During the time of an emergency, the police responsibility for the identification process must pass to custodial personnel for those charged with lesser offenses. I recommend that all persons taken to the Central Detention Center and charged with minor offenses be photographed and have an impression of their right index finger taken at the time of processing. Therefore, those responsible for custody at the Central Detention Center should be provided with necessary cameras and fingerprint equipment.

It is my understanding that the National Guard intends to assign this responsibility to Major Roger Coppinger who will be in charge of 300 National Guardsmen located at the Central Detention Center and the Baltimore City Jail. If the Central Detention Center handles lesser violators, the Baltimore Police Department will institute full identification procedures at the district station houses. This will include a full fingerprint record, photograph, and regular criminal record check.

July 5, 1968

14. No exception is taken to this recommendation.

15. No exception is taken to this recommendation.

16. No exception is taken to this recommendation.

17. I agree with this recommendation generally, but since the Police Department is unable to develop a pass system which is workable, it will continue to exercise discretion for those whose presence is obvious on the streets. Anything we can agree to in this area is subject to ratification by Federal Forces once they are committed. Additionally, Major General George M. Gelston will be in command at an early time in the event of any future disorder.

20. This Department will provide transportation for curfew violators and the determination of summons is a matter for those involved in the administration of justice as are the periods of detention which may be determined.

21. We take no exception to this recommendation.

23. I agree with this recommendation and intend to use district station houses for serious violators. With the concurrence of the Warden at the City Jail, we will use the City Jail for serious violators when Police Department facilities are over-taxed.

24. We take no exception to this recommendation, but it is my understanding that the Central Detention Center will be under the responsibility of the National Guard which has designated 300 members to be responsible for the security of the Central Detention Center and the City Jail. I also understand that the National Guard has earmarked a trained correctional official to be in charge of the Central Detention Center. Accordingly, I suggest that the Emergency Operations Coordinator be relieved of any responsibility for the Central Detention Center.

25. We do not disagree with this recommendation, but suggest that it be discussed with the Attorney General of Maryland. The Attorney General has been influential in considering the use of 420 Fallsway for the Central Detention Center.

26. The response to recommendation 25 also applies here. I understand that necessary preparations are underway by the officer designated by the Adjutant General of Maryland.

July 5, 1968

33. We have no comment on this recommendation since it is primarily the responsibility of the National Guard or Federal Force Commander.

36. We take no exception to this recommendation.

40. We take no exception to this recommendation.

41. We concur with this recommendation. Present forms are adequate to provide the necessary extra copies.

49. We take no exception to this recommendation.

50. We take no exception to this recommendation, but it should be noted that additional telephone lines should be installed at the Central Detention Center and not in district station houses.

51. We take no exception to this recommendation, but curfew passes must be resolved with the Adjutant General and Federal Force Commander.

64. We agree in principle with notifying the public in advance of curfew, but the Police Department does not have sufficient equipment to implement this recommendation. There is no money available for such equipment in the current budget.

66. The Police Department will provide a copy of the arrest report to the Central Data Bank, but this Department will not be able to staff this activity. The Central Data Bank should be separate from police facilities, possibly using the sophisticated computer system of Baltimore City.

67. Cost factors and lead time on production and delivery of multiple arrest forms are being developed. Again it should be noted, that no money is provided in the current budget for this purpose. Our form-set arrest report will be prenumbered and the flows discussed elsewhere in your report will be followed.

July 5, 1968

In connection with Sub-section C, it is recommended that the space for "age" be changed to show "date of birth" on the key punch card.

Key punch operators of the Baltimore Police Department will not be available as there is an insufficient number to meet immediate needs under normal circumstances. It is suggested that key punch operators from other municipal agencies or commercial firms be used.

In addition to the preceding thirty-three recommendations pointed out for our comment, I would like to suggest an increase in the maximum penalties provided for the suggested scavenger law discussed in recommendation 18. With a view toward deterrence, I believe a maximum fine of $1,000 and a maximum imprisonment of one year should be considered.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Judge Russell:

Set forth below are some areas of problems encountered by the Baltimore City Jail by the recent riots. I am mentioning these only in the nature of information at this time.

1. Receiving inmates with no arrest record and no form of commitment paper at all;
2. The use by a number of inmates of wrong names and addresses, some because they were incoherent by reason of being evasive and/or being under the influence of liquor, etc.;
3. Inadequate space; large additional, temporary housing area which may be required with Sanitation and Sewer facilities as well as sleeping accommodations;
4. Delay caused in returning inmates to their correct districts; perhaps some colored card system will enable the Jail to group and separate the inmates by districts; such as, Western by orange; Central by green, etc.;
5. The need for the City to establish an information center and the personnel to equip it to inform the public as to whether or not the inmates are still in the City Jail and how to secure releases.
6. The City may wish to furnish more adequate phone facilities for use by the inmates, police, visitors,

etc.;

7. Availability of soldiers to assist in maintaining order and security within the Jail, and in the additional temporary Jail facilities which may be used away from the City in order to assist the Jail Correction Personnel and the City policemen;

8. The prompt payment for over-time work for the City Jail personnel who we found worked for three days without rest during the recent riots;

9. Proper allowances for increased cost of food and operations.

Dear Mr. Klein,

This is to confirm our telephone conversation of this date.

I have been requested to report on recommendation No. 28 of the Report of the Baltimore Committee on Administration of Justice Under Emergency Conditions.

The primary detention center will of course be the City Jail, with some overflow possibly going to the Penitentiary.

However, the capabilities of these institutions are rather limited. Other possibilities remain such as the Civic Center, 420 Fallsview, the Stadium, various gymnasiums and public schools scattered throughout the City.

Light food, in the nature of sandwiches and soup and coffee, could be provided through the Department of Purchases and Department of Education's Cafeteria section.

I will be happy to meet with you and your committee to discuss these problems further.

Yours truly,

Mr. Dear Mr. Agnew:

Brooklyn United Methodist Church Commission on Social Concerns takes this opportunity to express to you our endorsement on your recent stand relative to the Student Demonstrations at Bowie State Teacher's College and your straight-forward rebut of those leaders in Baltimore City who by their knowledge and passive attitudes helped to inflame the trouble in our city during Holy Week. You, Mr. Agnew are to be commended for your challenging statements.

Just recently, we learned that the City of Baltimore had extended an open invitation to the "Poor Marchers" to camp at the tax-payers expense in Memorial Stadium on their way to Washington to demand from our nations leaders additional give-away programs to avoid perhaps honest labor.

Mr. Agnew, the days ahead will demand from you dynamic leadership throughout this state, including Baltimore City, if we as tax-payers and citizens are to remain solvent, industrious and progressive.

However, our Commission feels that there is still too much leniency extended by our officials, both city and state, in many other colleges as well as our university in matters of college administration where we feel the student has no business meddling into such affairs. The student is there for the specific purpose of pursuing a course in higher education - not in college administration management.

As our Governor your roll will demand the best you have to offer. It will demand courage in the face of threats and innuendoes, determination and steadfastness even when others weaken and fail, and common sense when emotions and excitements are pitched and are high. You are the Governor of all the people of the State - not just a few and to render special favors to a few at the expense of others will in the end result in disaster. Law and order is essential for all alike. The criminal, no matter what his color or creed, must be brought before the courts of justice in our state. Ours must be an equal opportunity state not only in employment but in every other facet as well.

Recent events in Baltimore City reveals that equality before the law for all people has in some instances through fear of retaliation, been questionable.

Our Commission writes you this letter to make you aware of our feelings. We are among your most cherished citizens - we are taxpayers and we are voters. And it is our hope that as our leader and Governor no partiality will be shown to any person but that all will continue to receive from you and our state, impartial and fair treatment in all of our endeavors.

Dear Mr. Lelonek:

I want you to know that I have the highest respect for you and members of the Belair-Edison Improvement Association. I know that this Association has been in the forefront of the fight for better government, stable neighborhoods and a healthy Baltimore.

I realize that many fine citizens like yourself are and should be legitimately concerned about the recent events which have occurred in Baltimore. The April disturbances were certainly a most terrible experience, and I think all of us hope they will never reoccur. I know there has been sincerely motivated criticism about the way local, state and federal authorities coped with the disorders. I can assure you, however, that these policies were applied only after the most experienced minds in the area of law enforcement had been consulted. These policies were reached only after the mistakes and successes experienced by other cities that faced similar disturbances, were examined. There was never any effort by officials to tolerate crime and violence. I think the record-high arrest totals are proof that law-enforcement agencies did not coddle violators of the law. Perhaps more force should have been used, but I might add that such extensive force was used in Watts, Newark and Detroit, with the result that scores of persons, many of them innocent, were killed by stray bullets and fearful gunmen.

I know of no high public official who condones lawlessness. At the same time, however, responsible public officials must not panic nor promulgate ill-advised policies during periods of stress, since such rash expressions can only further aggravate the delicate social and political balance now prevailing in our nation.

Sincerely,

Mayor

[PERSONAL]

The Honorable Thos. J. D'Alesandro, III
Mayor - City of Baltimore
Baltimore, Maryland - 21202

Dear Mr. Mayor:

When you were campaigning for office of the Chief Executive of Baltimore City, you captured the imagination of thousands of Baltimoreans with the youthful vitality the City required in its government. The stagnation of the City was becoming evident -- even to the average citizen who was not then an active participant or observer of the scene.

Your early appointments to office demonstrated vision. Your announced goals gave us hope.

More recently, however, we have begun to have second thoughts. And, it appears you have fallen into the same rut of your predecessor as a result of which we are beginning to have misgivings about the City's future.

As a community organization interested in the welfare of the neighborhood of over 30,000 people, we do not want to see a further exodus to the counties of the substantial citizenry who have, in the past, contributed physically, culturally, and economically to the City's growth and income as well as its industrial development. Believe us, we are not bigots. We do look with favor upon appointments by you of men to high administrative office who have exceptional credentials. One of these men who comes quickly to mind is your City Solicitor, the Honorable George Russell.

On the other hand, we view with alarm the appointment to the school board of a man who led a so-called "sleep-in" which tied up the executive offices of our educational department. We cite this as just one of several examples which exist. You give the impression that one way to qualify for the Mayoral nod is to be a firebrand, a racial militant or a demonstration leader.

The straw that breaks the camel's back, however, is your handling of the recent Easter week civil disturbances coupled with what may be called your denunciation of the Governor's lecture to a section of the community. Our own private conversations with police officers, firemen, people "in the know", national guardsmen, as well as a cross-section review of all journalistic media indicates to us an inept handling of the disorder by those in authority with the authority to act.

BELAIR-EDISON IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

We believe City officials had advance knowledge of the disorder but made no moves to avert the catastrophe until it became an accomplished fact. An officer of the Association was in the immediate vicinity of one of the "trouble" spots just before the first disorder began. He was amazed at the small "army" of police in the vicinity who apparently were acting under top level orders not to interfere except to be "seen". The condonation of crime and violence during that week is unparalleled in recorded civilized history.

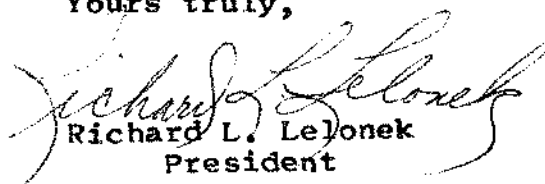

To us, and the community we represent, our arguments are not weakened by the arrests made and the hollow pleas on radio and television. While we do not subscribe to the "shoot to kill" theme advocated in some quarters, we do believe the publicly announced restraint imposed on the militia and police was advertisement enough to many that the law could be ignored with impunity.

We are constrained to say, here and now, we commend the Governor for his statement April 11, and must confess a disenchantment with your adverse reaction as well as the activities of the administration over the last several months.

If the City is to progress, every effort must be made to avoid any further migration of its citizens to the counties. This makes it incumbent upon you to create a climate which encourages City residence. Crime in the streets, rising taxes and official tolerance of crime and violence as well as appointments of individuals noted more for the trouble they can cause than their credentials offer justifiable excuse for the "concerned" citizen to run while there still is time. We can't tolerate the current posture and neither should you.

We hope our disenchantment with the Administration will be short lived.

Yours truly,

Richard L. Lelonek

Dear Father Offer:

I found your reflections concerning the Governor's recent statement on civil rights most illuminating. Developments indicate that the Governor is making a sincere effort to repair the breakdown in communication which apparently occurred.

It is my belief that the best thing all of us can do at this point is to push for the kind of programs and policies which will bring true social and political justice to all our people. This thrust, however, must be accompanied by the kind of leadership which seeks not to divide and harangue, but to unite and comfort.

In closing, let me express my sincere thanks for all the work you have done in promoting a better relationship between the various communities of people living in our city.

Dear Mayor D'Alesandro:

Enclosed are some of my reflections on what has happened this past week in regard to Governor Agnew's meeting with the moderate Civil Rights leaders on April 11th. It represents the agreed thinking of all of us in the Urban Commission. I would appreciate very much your reading what I have put down here and we would be very glad to have your comments.

We are very anxious to do anything that we can to be positive and constructive. We would like to help conciliate and restore the lines of communication between the Governor and the black community. Any suggestions you have along this line would also be very much appreciated.

ANALYSIS AND EVALUATION OF THE SPEECH BY GOVERNOR AGNEW TO THE SO-CALLED MODERATE CIVIL RIGHTS LEADERS ON THURSDAY, APRIL 11th, AS I WOULD SEE IT FROM THE VIEWPOINT OF THESE BLACK LEADERS

"Hard on the heels of tragedy comes the assignment of blame and the excuses. I did not invite you here for either purpose."

This is what he said, but he did the exact opposite. He did blame them and this was the terrible insult. These were the people who have worked so hard and for so long to prevent the very things that happened this week.

"If you'll observe, the ready mix, instantaneous type of leader is not here. The circuit-riding, Hanoi-visiting type of leader is missing from this assembly. The cat-calling, riot-inciting, burn-America down type of leader is conspicuous by his absence. That is no accident, ladies and gentlemen. It is just good planning."

Who is he talking about? They should have been identified and should have, in the good-old American tradition, the right to defend themselves against his accusations. He probably is talking about Bob Moore, Walter Lively, Danny Gant, Stu Wexler, Tim and Irving Conway, Dino Prettyman, etc. - representing S.N.N.C., C.O.R.E., U-J.O.I.N., C.I.G., etc. I know every one of these men personally--some I know quite intimately. Tim Conway and his group were in our Rectory 2 a.m. Sunday morning getting something to eat. They worked with us all week trying to "cool it" and giving relief to the victims. Walter Lively was around doing the same thing. I saw him on one such occasion Sunday night on Pennsylvania Avenue. This is why all the black leaders fell in strongly behind them.

"Some weeks ago, a reckless stranger to this city. . . characterized the Baltimore police as 'enemies of the black man'."

Governor Agnew is apparently referring to Bob Moore of SNCC. Bob Moore is not a reckless stranger. He is a native of the city and has been responsibly active in civil rights here for many years. I am not sure of his present philosophy. He has a right to defend himself. When he spoke about the police he was simply speaking out the sentiments of many black people who, through the years, have suffered so much more than most of us can understand. This is why there was a storm of censure from the black people against those who reacted in opposition to the statement. Our people want law and order but they want a "law and order society" that does not discriminate and demean their dignity. I do not agree with the statement, but I do not believe it was uttered "to attract attention and to inflame" as the Governor claimed. What he said was not "only the opinion of those who depend upon chaos and turmoil for leadership." This last phrase in itself is a broad condemnation, and I don't know who is being referred to by these words.

"And you ran. You met in secret with that demagogue and others like him and you agreed. . . that you would not openly criticize any black spokesman, regardless of the content of his remarks. . . you were intimidated by veiled threats. . . you were stung. . . by epithets like "Uncle Tom."

Who ran and met in secret and with whom? Who was intimidated and stung? Was it Judge Watts, Judge Cole, Mrs. Juanita Mitchell, Judge Hargrove, Dave Glenn, Sam Daniels, Rev. Frank Williams, Rev. Vernon Dobson, Mrs. Victorine Adams, Councilman Douglass, Mr. Charles Tildon? It was these people and others like them that formed the audience to which he was speaking. The Governor emphasized this in the beginning. What specific meeting is he talking about? And just who did attend? The above statement is terribly unjust.

"Now many parts of our cities lie in ruins. . . Those fires were kindled at the suggestion and with the instruction of the advocates of violence."

How sure can the Governor be? The Mayor seems to agree. General York says, "No". It is not easy to know just how much might have been from planning? Perhaps some, perhaps none.

Governor Agnew misses the most important point of all. We want to put the blame where it really belongs. Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown are not the real culprits. All of these men to whom Mr. Agnew was speaking condemn any preaching of violence, burning, looting, etc., They know it is futile and fatal. The real revolutionaries are the people responsible for the kinds of conditions in the ghetto that breed frustration, violence, riots, etc. These are the ones who should be blamed for what happened in Baltimore this past week. The black leaders are not even interested in naming names and sitting in judgment on individuals but they do want to get down to the root causes. They want to treat the diseases, not the symptoms. Are they to be condemned for this kind of thinking.

"It was no accident that one such advocate appeared at eight separate fires before the fire chief could get there."

Who is Governor Agnew accusing now? Is it Walter Lively? The paper said five fires. Walter himself told me it was two and that he was helping people. They urged all of us who were civil rights leaders, ministers or priests, to get out with the crowds and try to cool it. Some did. I have known Walter for a number of years. He has always been a responsible leader. Most all of us respect him. What right does the Governor have to stand and condemn a man on hearsay evidence. I was not with him Saturday night but I must make my judgement from what I know of the man. I may not agree with everything he says or does, but I have always found him honest, open and decent.

"I readily admit that this equal opportunity has not always been present for Negroes - that it is still not totally present for Negroes. But I say that we have come a long way."

The Governor just does not understand. How does he know the Negroes have come a long way. A few have! He is trying to teach these black leaders when he should be asking them to teach him. The masses of black people have hardly moved at all.

"Tell me one constructive achievement that has flowed from the madness of the twin priests of violence, Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown."

All of the people to whom Gov. Agnew was speaking do repudiate the violence that these two preach. However, these twin priests of violence have accomplished some constructive things. They have aroused many black people to an awareness of their problems and they have stirred them up to want to do something about the problems. They have made America listen to a whole lot of moderate people they would not be listening to unless Stokely and company had them scared. They have helped to unit black people like they have never been united before and this is very constructive.

QUOTED STATEMENTS FROM CARMICHAEL, BROWN AND DIXON

I am sure all of the people to whom the Governor was speaking repudiate the thinking expressed in these statements. It is an insult to infer otherwise.

"I call upon you to publicly repudiate, condemn and reject all black racists. This so far you have not been willing to do."

I doubt whether there are any black racists. It is hard enough trying to convince a black man that he is just as good as a white man, much less trying to convince him that he is better.

These people to whom the Governor was speaking have spent their whole lives repudiating all that he is ranting against. Many of them spent the week trying to do what they could to stop the violence and to aid the victims. Their entire lives have been a public statement in their belief in what is right and just. This kind of rebuke is absolutely wrong and uncalled for.

These black leaders know why Stokely and the others are so frustrated. It is hard not to be sympathetic. They do not agree with his conclusions or his plan for redress but they do agree with much of his analysis of the problems.

"I SUBMIT THAT THESE MEN AND OTHERS LIKE THEM represent a malignancy out of control; that will lead us to a devastating civil war."

These men like Stokely do not represent the malignancy. They are a reaction to it. White racism is the malignancy. The Governor has to come to realize this.

"I submit to you that there can be no winner from such a conflict and that the heaviest losers will be the Negro citizens of America."

We all know this!

"That target will be realized when every man is judged on his own individual merit."

This is all the black people have ever asked for.

"Divisiveness and the doctrine of partheid are impenetrable barriers between us and that target."

We all agree on this and wish the Governor would not keep dividing us.

"I am sure that these remarks come as somewhat of a surprise to you; that you expected nebulous promises and rationalizations and possibly a light endorsement of the Kerner Report. This I could not do."

We hoped for deep insights into the real problems of the city. It is an insult to even intimate that we wanted nebulous promises and rationalizations. We did not expect to be blamed. We certainly hoped that he would endorse the Kerner Report. If he cannot, then he should tell us why.

"Blind militancy must be converted into constructive purpose."

Amen! We all believe this strongly. This is why we do not want to cut ourselves off completely from any segment of the black community. We want to harness and channel every source of energy.

"This cannot occur so long as you or I condone or cling to racism, black or white."

Why does he keep insisting that we believe in racism of any kind.

"I believe you represent the views of the overwhelming majority of Maryland's Negro citizens - responsible, hard-working, decent people who are as horrified by the events of the past days as you or I."

This is true but this isn't what he has been saying about us through the whole statement.

"My greatest fear is this polarization of attitudes as an aftermath of violence."

The Governor is the one person in the community who has done an almost unbelievable job of doing just this.

"I will need your vision and your voice."

This is the first time he has even asked for our ideas and the request is rather vague.

"Let us begin to rebuild now. . . Let us work together not as black and white - but as responsible citizens of Maryland who uphold the law; as concerned citizens who are united in their dedication to eliminate prejudice and poverty or any conditions which create hopelessness and despair."

What does he think we have been doing. This is our whole creed.

"The fiction that Negroes lack any opportunity in this country is dispelled by the status of those in this room."

It is hard to believe that the Governor could make this statement. It shows how terribly uninformed he is. It is very, very untrue.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

You are to be congratulated in the way our City, under your leadership, ended the riots and the looting. There were many individuals who performed their tasks in a manner which was truly a credit to you and to the City of Baltimore.

Our Civil Defense Organization and the Fire and Police Departments are all to be praised.

However, even in the kind of emergency which hit our City, there are the unsung heroes, those who may never be seen but who play such an important role behind the scenes. The groups I am speaking of are the staffs of the Central Payroll Division and the Bureau of Data Processing.

After several discussions with Mr. Charles L. Benton, Director of Finance, on Sunday, April 7, 1968, a plan was worked out to bring those employees needed to maintain pay schedules to work on Monday, April 8. While most city employees were off, our employees were transported by school buses to the Municipal Building under armed guard. At the end of the day, they were returned to their homes with police escort.

Because of this dedication to duty, the employees of the Pratt Library, Baltimore City Hospitals, Department of Education, members of the Police Department, and laborers received their checks on their normal pay date. Our staff played a major part in keeping up the morale of those trying to bring our City under control.

This is truly a group of loyal and devoted employees and they are certainly worthy of commendation.

These supplies, furnished to the City free of charge by the Federal Government, are approaching a value of $1,500,000, and will continue to grow. It is, therefore, absolutely necessary that provision be made to keep a closer inventory control on these items than has been done in the past.

The Federal Government is aware that many of these items are stored in public places where risk of loss or damage is apparent, and we have no difficulty whatsoever in obtaining replacement items therefrom.

However, in the interest of good administration and to avoid any possible embarrassment to your administration, I strongly urge either that personnel be assigned to this problem or that money be allowed in the coming budget to contract for this inventory and replacement service, in order to maintain the Shelter stocks as required.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Your recognition of the Supreme Bench by appointing me as a member of your Riot Commission is indeed appreciated, but a number of my colleagues and others have questioned the propriety of my serving on such a committee. Although I have been unable to discuss this matter with the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, I am told by one of his associates that in all probability he would not look with favor upon such participation. The executive committee of the National Conference of State Trial Judges, in February of this year, rejected a proposal that the trial judges become involved in such matters as the handling of mass civil disturbances.

As you are probably already aware, I have been called upon to review a number of the cases which grew out of the recent riots, and it seems to me that if I participated in any investigation which pertained to review and assessment of the efforts of the courts I would be forced to disqualify myself in subsequent litigation relating to the riots which would come before the Supreme Bench. This, of course, would apply equally to my associates.

I have suggested to the Honorable George L. Russell, Jr., City Solicitor, that it might be preferable for Mr. Frederick Invernizzi to serve in place of any member of the judiciary.

Hon. Thomas J. D'Alesandro

April 30, 1968

Mr. Invernizzi, as you know, is the administrator of the courts for the State of Maryland and would bring representation on a state-wide basis. Judge Russell has concurred in this and Mr. Invernizzi has agreed to work with the committee.

You may rest assured that I stand ready at all times to assist the committee in every way possible and if it is desired, I will be pleased to review with my colleagues the recommendations relating to the courts and furnish our comments to the committee. You will, I trust, understand my position and my willingness to be helpful in any area that may be of benefit to you or the committee.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Senator Malkus:

Please excuse the delay in my reply to your letter concerning the disturbances in Baltimore City.

Dear Mayor D'Alesandro:

The United States Senate has ordered this Subcommittee to make a full and complete investigation of the riots and civil disorders that have recently occurred, the causes, extent and effects thereof, and to study and make recommendations of measures necessary for their prevention.

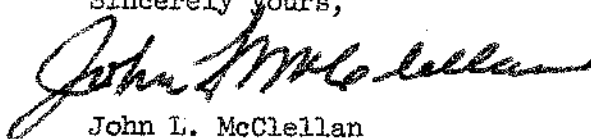

As Chairman of the Subcommittee which has been assigned this important and difficult task, I am requesting your cooperation and assistance relating to the civil disturbance that occurred recently in your community.

We are undertaking to gather basic facts from all the areas of the country where civil disturbances have occurred. As part of this survey, it would be helpful and much appreciated if you would supply the information called for on the enclosed sheet.

It would be greatly appreciated if you would make this information available at the earliest possible date. Be assured that any "confidential" matters reported to us will be respected as such by the Subcommittee.

Your cooperation will be deeply appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Tommy,

I think you know how much the community appreciates everything you have done and are doing to make Baltimore City one that all of us can be proud of. Your handling of every situation during the time of the unfortunate riots in this city is to be commended from every angle.

You spoke out for constructive positive communication and action, true to the commitments of your oath of office pledging to be Mayor of all the citizens; and finally, you spoke out for peace and reconciliation. To me, your actions were phenomenal, because how can one be sure that he is right under such trying circumstances. To most Baltimoreans you have been right and we love you for it.

For my constituents and for many people of Baltimore who have said or made similar statements about you, I wish to thank you for them. May God ever bless you and strengthen you in your efforts to serve well all the people. You have gained the confidence of the large majority.

I want to say to you personally, if there is anything at anytime I can ever do for you to help in any way, remember, I am at your call.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I am forwarding a photocopy of Mr. Gerard E. Gray's letter of April 11, 1968. To place this in the strongest political sense, Mr. Gray is a resident and voter of the 67th Precinct, 27th Ward.

The opinion of Mr. Gray truly reflects that of the overwhelming majority of people to whom I have spoken since the commencement of the riot. This includes members of the Negro community as well. Mr. Gray has never exhibited any signs of bigotry and you will note that the content of his letter is not founded bias or prejudice, but in simple terms of responsibility.

I am completely dissatisfied with what occurred during the recent riot, and I intend to make it a point to insure that should such an unfortunate occurrence repeat itself, that we are better equipped, manned and trained for the job that has to be done. We cannot really afford a repeat. I also noted that Commissioner Pomerleau in his first press conference, following the riot, indicated that many complaints were received from those 'who have no responsibility'. I wish you would advise the Commissioner that this administration and every member of the City Council has a responsibility in matters such as this, for he is not the only one responsible to the citizens and taxpayers of Baltimore when such an occurrence takes place.

Sincerely,

Frank X. Gallagher

Dear Mr. Gallagher

If I wrote this letter to the Mayor he probably wouldn't see it. So would you convey to him, if possible, my thoughts.

I just saw him on Channel 13 @ 11 PM. He had a group of men with him whom he said represented the white community. Although I am white I don't think they represent me. They were all moneyed men and they live in exclusive areas of the city. In fact, one I believe lives in Baltimore County. So how can they represent me a poor middle class slob whose only right is to pay taxes. The middle class of this city and this country is gradually being reduced because of the tax burden. These taxes being used to provide goodies for the loafers & goof-offs who loot & riot. Whose only philosophy is to get what you can without working.

Gov. Agnew today displayed a rare trait in present day public officials. He had the courage to say what had to be said. It is too damn bad this country doesn't have more men like him - and after hearing

At your command I prepared a way concerning the lack of force in suppressing the riot I can put them in
Gov. Agnew's class.

This letter is from one who will probably not be a citizen of this city much longer.

Dear Dr. Jackson:

Please excuse the delay in replying to your letter in which you discuss a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors of the Baltimore Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

I think the resolution is an important one and one which strikes at the very heart of the issues presently confronting our city and state. As you know, I share the feelings expressed by this declaration and am doing everything within my power to bring about a truly open society in Baltimore.

As for the proposed meeting with the Governor, I think that the events of recent weeks have shown that the State government is becoming more and more sensitive to the problems faced by our Negro citizens. I believe that the Governor's action in meeting with students yesterday from Maryland State College indicates that he is fully cognizant of the public commitments necessary to bring about vital changes in our state. Therefore, I feel that the State government is genuinely pursuing a policy aimed at tearing down the barriers of discrimination, and I can assure you that we in the city will continue to step up our efforts to achieve the same objective.

Dear Mayor D'Alesandro:

The Board of Directors of our Association, at our regular monthly meeting on Wednesday Evening, April 17th, unanimously adopted a resolution to strongly urge you and Governor Spiro T. Agnew to hold a joint conference with colored citizens to coordinate a massive state and municipal immediate action program to end the second-class citizenship of the colored population of this state which has existed far too long.

The resolution was adopted on the motion of Dr. A. J. Payne, Pastor of Enon Baptist Church and first colored President of the Council of Churches of Maryland, and seconded by Reverends Samuel Ray, Pastor of Morning Star Baptist Church, A. C. Crumbley, Pastor of Mt. Pisgah C. M. E. Church, and S. A. Thompson, Pastor of Ebenezer A. M. E. Church.

The resolution further states:

"The surest way to avoid the violence which convulsed Baltimore City last week is to speed up corrections of intolerable injustices.

"The blame for what has happened must be placed squarely at the door of our government's failure to end segregation and discrimination.

"We reaffirm our commitment to law and order. We deplore the breaking, looting, burning and vandalism which racked our city and caused hundreds of innocent citizens to be jailed on the charges of curfew violation, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, and other crimes, and the loss of lives and millions of dollars in property and jobs.

Dear Mr. Gorn:

The death of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., this past week left us with heavy hearts, a burden to carry and some debts to repay. One of those debts is to assure the dignity of all men, regardless of their race, color or creed.

As the nation grieved this weekend and the President proclaimed this mourning to be an official, national sentiment, the Village of Purnell once again defiantly affronted the Negroes who are the primary residents of this part of the city. By refusing to fly the American flag at half staff...by taking the easy way out and not flying it at all...the Village of Purnell showed its sympathies were not with the nation in honoring this Nobel Peace Prize winner. Rather, the Village of Purnell showed that it could once again be unresponsive to the needs of mankind and a nation so torn with bigotry. What was good enough for our ships at sea, our city, state and federal buildings, our schools, was not good enough for the Village of Purnell.

The fences which encircle the Village of Purnell can not keep out the spirit of a man like Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.. Nor can they keep in the white racism which we all must stand for in the eyes of this fine Negro community which daily passes our gates.

These fences for a time may insure the de facto segregation which exists here, but they can not stand against the winds of change now blowing in our country. The smouldering ruins in Baltimore and Washington are mute testimony to what hatred can breed and how hot and uncomfortable those winds can be. Are we breeding that same type of hatred here?

We earnestly request that the Village of Purnell be opened to people of all races and that it be made not only a worthwhile financial investment for you, but a worthwhile human investment for the people of Baltimore and a testimony to the principles for which Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was killed.

Dear Mrs. Backert:

I appreciate your making known to me your feelings about conditions currently prevailing in the City. Be assured that I am concerned with the welfare and health of the entire community.

However, the City is faced with a number of social and economic problems that are due to a large extent to years of neglect and inactivity. It is my intention to meet these problems head-on and to try and find solutions for them. In the course of my efforts, it is necessary for me to deal with all of the citizens of our City regardless of race, creed or color, because the solutions to our problems rest not only with the government but with concerned citizens like yourself.

My dear Mr. Mayor:

I have always been a W' Alexanders Supporter. I greatly admired your father and was always a great fan of his. I supported you when you ran for Mayor and along with the many other loyal Democrats looked forward to the return of a W' Alexander as Mayor of the City of Baltimore. However, may I say, along with so many other loyal
Democrats I too, have become disillusioned.
I am afraid that many of us have come to the conclusion that you have let us down. You very definitely are not the W' Alexander your father was.

Day by day it has become more evident that you are bending to the will of the various negro factions. The white population of our city is paying more and more each day for these allowances in robbery, murder and rape.

Today, a very fine gentleman and business man, was set upon and shot and brutally beaten by three of these "poor unfortunates". Doubtless someone will say they are products of the "ghetto" (a greatly misused word). I refer to the merchant who was so brutally attacked in the 2200 Blk. E. Monument St. This man is well known and very well thought of throughout the community. How long

Mr. Mayor, before some drastic steps are taken? I am sure that if something were to happen to some member of a family of a political person, then and only then will their eyes be opened.

This is not a racial attack by no means. I have lived here all my life.
I have worked since I was 14 yrs. of age and have raised a family and consider myself a worthwhile citizen and taxpayer of the City of Baltimore. I work with many colored people and respect them.
However, it is the element that is constantly demanding and getting more and more all the time, that I deplore.

I like many, many more Baltimoreans, beg you, Mr. Mayor, wake up and consider the good citizens of our City.

I cannot be sure that you will see this letter, or read it. Perhaps it will go the way of much other undesired mail — to the waste can. I hope not. I can only reiterate Mr. Mayor, how much longer before the 'white citizens'
begin to take matters in their own hands.

Respectfully
Mrs. Marie Bockert

Maryland Feeling Johnson Pressure

By Richard Homan
Washington Post Staff Writer

Supporters of President Johnson have changed their strategy in Maryland and now intend to send a State delegation to the Democratic National Convention instructed to vote for the President and bind by the unit rule. Until Robert F. Kennedy (D-N.Y.) entered the race, most Maryland Democrats were content to send an uncommitted delegation, although a delegation bound to the incumbent Democrat has been customary in the past. Pressures to line up the State's 49 convention votes for President reportedly have come from within the White House. The move is clearly intended to counteract attempts by Kennedy supporters to chip away at Johnson's strength in Maryland. Baltimore Mayor Thomas J. D'Alesandro made a "private" trip to Washington Thursday charged by opponents of Johnson that the White House was trying to win his support by tempting him with

Fabian Bachrach

T. J. D'ALESANRO III

Federal funds for inner city development projects.

D'Alesandro, whose city is in dire need of ghetto money and has been included in the Model Cities program, said the trip involved "only purely local party politics."

However, reliable sources said that a top Democratic party official in Maryland asked a White House staffer on Wednesday to exert pressure on D'Alesandro to nail down his support.

No contact "other than social" was made with him by anyone from the White House, D'Alesandro said yesterday. He characterized the contact, and those from supporters of Kennedy and Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) as "overtures to find out where I stand."

He has not decided, D'Alesandro said, "but in all probability, I'll go with the President."

Maryland's Democratic State convention to choose delegates to the national convention was to have been held yesterday but it was postponed pending a hearing Tuesday in Montgomery County Circuit Court on a suit by McCarthy backers challenging its authority. Most local Democratic units have selected their delegates, subject to approval by the State convention.

Supporters of Kennedy and McCarthy had hoped to use the interim period to woo potential delegates away from the President, but they have apparently been unsuccessful.

None of the State's local party chairmen, who will make up the leadership of the State convention if one is held, has left the Johnson camp.

Thursday night the Prince George's Democratic Central Committee reaffirmed an earlier decision by a 7-to-2 vote to offer a motion at the State convention to bind the Maryland delegation to the President and to impose a unit rule on the delegation.

Two party leaders said yesterday, however, that they have not changed their mind about preferring an uninstructed delegation, though both are expected to support the President.

Party Chairman Marvin Mandel said he still would like to see an uncommitted delegation but he noted that "I don't have a vote at the convention."

Rep. Hervey G. Machen (D-Md.), a political leader in the Washington suburbs, said he thinks the delegation should remain flexible.

Maryland Attorney General Francis B. Burch is leading a move to commit the delegation to Johnson.
